

Telephones

With a B4RN full fibre broadband it makes no financial sense to retain a landline as your B4RN does not need a land line. Your broadband can be used for a low cost telephone service using VoIP (Voice over Internet Protocol) , it is the new and future way that our telephone lines and calls will be delivered to our homes and businesses. This makes the calls free if connecting to another Voip phone or if calling to a land line it's only the cost of a local call at the receiving end. A number of national companies offer VoIP services either on contract or a pay as you go service (where you buy credit and you are charged for each call). The pay as you go service will often require a new number.

VoIP from UBC / B4AV

B4AV have arranged discounted a B4AV group VoIP service with the local north east company UBC - Unified Business Communications at price much less than other services, £6.95 per month plus vat. The service will allow you to transfer your existing number for a small charge. An application form is available below.

UBC have tested the Zyxel router supplied by B4RN and can provide a service using a new VoIP phone or provide a similar service for an analogue phone plugged into the back of the router as those enjoyed by a VoIP Phone. You can access voicemail; you can have voicemail forwarded to email and for an additional monthly fee you can have access to a softphone app for desktop PC and for Mobile.

If you wish you to keep your existing telephone number after you have your new fibre broadband up and running -Do not cancel your existing phone service until you have moved you telephone number to your VoIP service.

The service provides you with 2000mins of calls to landlines (01/02) and mobiles (02, 3, V, EE) voicemail, call groups, call forwarding and divert, company phone book, music on hold, time-base routing, call barring, performance report.

The following are a few of the phones UBC can supply

Yealink T31G @ £2.50 per month (for 36x Months including setup fee and PSU) or purchase * £50.00

This is a basic IP Telephone which connects directly into a port on your broadband router.

Yealink T33G @ £2.77 per month (for 36x Months including setup fee and PSU) or to purchase *£60.00

A colour screen IP Telephone which connects directly into a port on your broadband router.

Yealink W52p @ £3.25 per month (for 36x Months including setup fee and PSU) or to purchase *£85.00

Base unit to plug into your router and a handset like a normal DECT phone.

Each additional W52H handset costs £55 or £1.75 per month over 36x months including carriage.

* Additional - Setup fee = £25.00 and PSU = £12.50 All phone prices exclude VAT and monthly payments are based on 3-year fixed price contracts.

Other more advanced handsets are available at varying in cost ideal for business users. If the business is say more than 10x handsets then we would recommend a site survey as it may be cheaper in the longer run to put in a small VoIP system.
